Right to Reemployment: A private employer may not terminate the employment of a permanent employee because the employee serves as a juror. An employee whose employment is terminated in violation of this section is entitled to return to the same employment that the employee held when summoned for jury service if the employee, as soon as practical after release from jury service, gives the employer actual notice that the employee intends to return. (Civil Practice and Remedies Code, Section 122.001).

Failure to Answer Summons and Penalties: A person who fails to comply with this summons is subject to a range of punishment of $100.00 to $500.00 as called for by Section 62.111 of the Government Code and Article 35.01 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (PETIT JURORS) and by Article 191.16 of the Code of Criminal Procedure for (GRAND JURORS). Additionally, a second range of punishment of $100.00 to $1000.00 as called for by Section 62.0141 of the Government Code. This range of punishment is termed to be the result of a contempt action and is in addition to the criminal penalties described above. These penalty ranges apply not only to persons who fail to answer a jury summons, but also to persons who file a false exemption claim or to otherwise be excused from jury service.
